1     40.230.020        MIXED USE DISTRICT (MX)

2     A. Purpose. The Mixed Use (MX) district requires mixed use developments to provide the community
 3     with a mix of mutually-supporting retail, service, office and medium or high density residential uses. It
 4     promotes cohesive site planning and design which integrates and interconnects two or more land uses
 5     into a development that is mutually supportive. It provides incentives to develop a higher-density,
 6     active, urban environment than generally found in a suburban community, and which is further 7     expected to:

- 8       1. Achieve the goals and objectives of the community framework plan and the comprehensive plan;
- 9       2. Enhance livability, environmental quality and economic vitality;
- 10      3. Accommodate and respect surrounding land uses by providing a gradual transition into lower 11      density neighborhoods that may encircle a potential mixed-use site.
- 12      4. Maximize efficient use of public facilities and services;
- 13      5. Provide a variety of housing types and densities;
- 14      6. Reduce the number of automobile trips and encourage alternative modes of transportation; and
- 15      7. Create a safe, attractive and convenient environment for living, working, recreating and traveling.

 17     B. Applicability.

- 18       1. General. The provisions of this section shall be applied to parcels or groups of contiguous parcels 19       designated mixed use on the zoning map.
- 20       2. Interpretation. If the requirements of the mixed use district conflict with other regulations, the 21       more stringent of the two shall apply.

 23     C. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

- 24       1. "Mixed-use development" shall mean a group of structures planned as a single entity and 25       containing within and/or among them a variety of complementary, and/or mutually supporting 26       uses (such as housing, offices, manufacturing, retail, public service or entertainment).
- 27       2. "Net Acre" is that portion of the site which is unencumbered by the land voluntarily set aside, 28       environmentally sensitive lands to be protected and their respective buffers, and shall exclude
 29       public right-of-way and road easements. "Net Acre" of a site shall be calculated by taking the 30       gross acreage of the site and subtracting areas that are unbuildable due to geographic (slope) or 31       environmental (wetlands, shorelines and related buffers) constraints.

32
 33     D. Uses. Those uses which are permitted or conditional in the MX (mixed use) district are shown in 34     Table 40.230.020-1. Residential uses are permitted so long as the minimum required densities of this 35     section are met. The appropriate review authority is mandatory.

- 36       "P" Uses allowed subject to approval of applicable permits.
- 37       "R/A" Uses permitted upon Review and Approval as set forth in Section 40.520.020.
- 38       "C" Conditional uses which may be permitted subject to the approval of a Conditional Use Permit 39       as set forth in Section 40.520.030.
- 40       "X" Uses specifically prohibited.

41
 42
 43     Where there are special use standards or restrictions for a listed use, the applicable code section(s) in
 44     Special Uses (Chapter 40.260) or other applicable chapters are noted in the "Special Standards"
 45     column.

a. Whether within a single building or on a development site, a minimum of twenty percent (20%) of the development shall be non-residential and a minimum of twenty percent (20%) of the 10

of net acres devoted to each type of use.

EXHIBIT A

- b. A minimum density of twelve (12) dwelling units per net acres is required. This shall be based on the number of net acres devoted to residential use, calculated by dividing the minimum required number of acres established pursuant to 40.230.020(D)(2)(a) by the minimum allowed density per net acre.
- c. The maximum density shall be forty-three (43) dwelling units per net acre devoted to residential use, of the maximum allowed percentage of the development site established pursuant to 40.230.020(D)(2)(a).

2. New lots and structures and additions to structures subject to this section shall comply with the applicable standards for sites, lots and building height, and setbacks in Tables 40.230.020-2 and 40.230.020-3, subject to the provisions of Chapter 40.200 and Section 40.550.020. Site plan review is required for all new development unless expressly exempted by this title (see Section 40.520.040).
